UNIFORM GUIDE

A place where everyone is known, nurtured to thrive, and inspired by a love of learning to live a life of purpose. [MISSION]

At its deepest level, a school uniform is a visible expression of belonging. Human beings are relational by nature and find meaning through membership in families, communities, teams, churches, and schools. Throughout history, communities have used symbols, traditions, and forms of dress and appearance to communicate identity and shared purpose.

A school uniform reflects the understanding that education is not merely an individual pursuit, but participation in a learning community. It reminds students that they are part of something larger than themselves and encourages a shared sense of identity, responsibility and pride.

In a culture that often emphasises personal expression above collective responsibility, a school uniform and clear presentation expectations provide an important balance. They help students understand that individual freedoms exist alongside responsibilities to others. Uniform and presentation standards therefore become more than matters of clothing and appearance; they are symbols of shared identity, mutual respect, and collective purpose.

The College believes students should be recognised not by their economic circumstances, social status, cultural background or personal style, but as valued members of the College community. The uniform affirms the inherent dignity of every student, strengthens belonging, and places greater emphasis on character, conduct and contribution than on individual appearance.

The College also recognises that students have individual needs and circumstances. Parents and carers may apply for a variation to uniform or presentation requirements on medical, diverse learning or religious grounds by submitting a Variation Application Form to the Deputy Principal for consideration.

Several uniform items are common across both Junior and Senior School. This is a deliberate decision that supports a strong one-school culture and reinforces a sense of continuity as students progress through the College. To provide flexibility and student choice, most garments can be worn all year round. Senior School students are required to wear a blazer during the winter months, including to and from school, while boys are required to wear the College tie throughout the year when wearing the College shirt.

Blak Douglas

Blazer

The College engaged multi-award-winning Indigenous artist Blak Douglas to create the exclusive artwork featured in the blazer lining.

The design incorporates the leaf motif from the College logo and symbolises growth, learning and belonging within the College community. Through interconnected imagery, the artwork reflects the journey of students as they learn, develop and flourish together.

Blak Douglas is one of Australia's most respected contemporary artists and was awarded the prestigious Archibald Prize in 2022. His contribution adds a meaningful and uniquely Australian element to the new College uniform.
